

Rebuilding Ukraine through the power of the English language and one-on-one connections

What is ENGIN?

ENGIN is a nonprofit organization that pairs Ukrainian youth with English speakers for free weekly online conversation practice and cross-cultural connection.

Our Mission

We're helping a generation of young Ukrainians improve their spoken English and intercultural skills.

- On an individual level, we equip students to access academic and professional opportunities.
- On a national level, we connect Ukraine with the world, spurring economic growth and social progress.

In Their Own Words

"In Ukraine the soldiers are fighting on the front. This is our front and what my team and I can do to help our country." Katerina Manoff, ENGIN Founder & CEO

"I think that war impacted every Ukrainian - it changed my life drastically. But my volunteer was a lifesaver because she helped me to cope with my stress and anxiety." Kateryna Horeva, ENGIN Student

"This probably the most important thing I do during my week - sit down with someone who genuinely wants to learn English, and speak with them and watch them improve. It's incredibly rewarding and I love every minute of it." Katherine Casagrande, ENGIN Volunteer

Why Our Work is Critical Today

ENGIN looks beyond short-term humanitarian needs to help Ukrainians recover and rebuild in the longer term. For students, our program offers a unique combination of benefits: improved speaking skills, confidence, a friend across the world, a safe space to process the trauma of war, and a pathway to a better job. All without deadlines or capacity limits – ENGIN is for any Ukrainian, anywhere, anytime.

On a national scale, Ukraine's postwar future depends on successful collaboration across borders – on foreign expertise, investment, tourism, international partnerships. Each volunteer-student pair we create is a thread tying Ukraine to the world – through the English language, cultural knowledge, and the relationships we build. We are working to reach 100,000 students – a tipping point that will set Ukraine on the path to a free, prosperous future.

Help Ukrainians Fight for their Future!

We rely on donations to keep our free program running. The cost of our program is only $20 per student.
